

The Unexpected God

“A Divine Portfolio”

Job 38:1-42:6

Books about God often speak of God as Creator—the Maker of heaven and earth—but not as Artist—the maker of dragonflies and azaleas. We extol His power in creation, but ignore His extravagant, exuberant creativity, His sheer inventiveness and playfulness. God is not a subject to be studied, but rather an Artist to be admired and contemplated and known.

1. Familiarity Breeds Indifference (38:1-41:34)

2. Wonder Begins in Silence (40:1-5)

3. Intimacy Begins with Wonder (42:1-6)