The Unexpected God

"The Beauty of Glory"

2 Corinthians 4:7-10, 16-18; Exodus 33:12-23

Man's glory is dim—a spattering of light, then darkness. God's glory is brilliant—a radiance so huge, so intense, that it burns up even the shadows it might create. One day we will see His glory. We will have hearts and eyes prepared to see it. One day. But not yet. Not now. For now, His glory is disguised in the strangest of places.
